Healthcare's Economic Impact on the East Central Coast

The East Central Coast has a thriving healthcare industry that benefits the community. As we take a look at the expansion of healthcare facilities currently in operation, new healthcare facilities being built and an increase in medical tourism, we see the overall impact of the healthcare industry is directly linked to a successful economy in the Greater Daytona Beach area. A prime example of this is the healthcare industry being a major employer for the region. AdventHealth is the No. 1 private sector employer for Volusia and Flagler counties. Halifax Health and Florida Healthcare Plans are the No. 2 and No. 7 private sector employers for Volusia County as well. In Brevard County, Health First is the No. 2 employer. Not only does the healthcare field provide a significant amount of jobs to the area, it provides quality jobs where employees can have long-lasting careers.

Halifax Health

During the 2022 fiscal year, Halifax Health provided numerous benefits to the East Central Coast community, resulting in a total contribution equal to $60.1 million. Halifax Health continues to grow and expand its locations and services, having a positive impact on the local economy.

Patients and physicians alike benefit from a growing and thriving East Central Coast healthcare industry. The expansion and growth of the medical community not only brings better patient care, but also brings jobs directly to the area. The completion of Halifax Health|UF Health - Medical Center of Deltona in 2020 had an estimated overall economic impact of $133 million. The hospital cost $153 million and created 200 nursing, CNA, surgeon, security, pharmacy and other jobs. The 95-bed, six-story, 202,242-square-foot hospital includes three multipurpose procedure rooms, four operating rooms, 13 intensive care rooms, and 30 medical and surgical rooms. Services offered include anesthesiology, cardiology, emergency care, gastroenterology, general surgery, orthopaedic surgery, neurology, pathology, radiology, urology and nephrology.

Halifax Health is also the official healthcare partner of Latitude Margaritaville Daytona, a 55-plus active adult community. "Halifax Health is excited to be a part of such a dynamic, game-changing project that will provide our community with a positive economic impact for years to come," said Jeff Feasel, president and chief executive officer of Halifax Health in a press release.

AdventHealth

The AdventHealth Central Florida Division, which includes its Daytona Beach, DeLand, Fish Memorial, New Smyrna Beach and Palm Coast hospitals, has a local financial impact of more than $1 billion annually.

Healthcare Manufacturing

B. Braun Medical Inc., the 10th largest medical device manufacturer in the world, established its first Florida location in Daytona Beach with a $100 million facility back in 2016. In 2023, the company opened a 218,000-square-foot pharmaceutical manufacturing facility in Daytona Beach, which helps fulfill the manufacturer's commitment to alleviate intravenous fluid shortages that have recently disrupted basic medical care delivery in the U.S.

AdventHealth Palm Coast Parkway

"Patients and physicians alike benefit from a growing and thriving East Central Coast healthcare industry. The expansion and growth of the medical community not only brings better patient care, but also brings jobs directly to the area."

With many new expansions and projects, it's clear to see why AdventHealth is a major contributor to the East Central Coast economy.

AdventHealth Daytona Beach recently broke ground on a new $45.7 million medical office building and ambulatory surgery center in east Volusia County. Expected to open in January 2024, it will provide a wide range of specialties including cardiology, general surgery, orthopaedics and more. The three-story, 60,000-square-foot building will house four operating rooms and two catheterization labs, and will be home to the Cardiology Physicians Group and North Florida Surgeons specialty group medical offices.

In October 2022, AdventHealth opened its Port Orange Health Park. The two-story, 36,000-square-foot health park provides a wide selection of medical specialties to better serve the needs of east Volusia County residents, all in one accessible location. The health park also offers same-day appointments, weekend appointments, extended hours for certain services, and specially trained staff providing quality care.

AdventHealth is also expanding its investment in Flagler County. Back in September 2021, AdventHealth broke ground on the 100-bed AdventHealth Palm Coast Parkway hospital. The $162 million project will create up to 700 new jobs in Flagler County with an average salary of $67,000 once it's complete. "We are proud to celebrate this milestone in the building of our second Palm Coast hospital," said AdventHealth Central Florida Division - North Region CEO Audrey Gregory in a press release. The four-story, 158,000-square-foot hospital will offer patients an emergency department with full-service imaging, five operating rooms, endoscopy services, an outpatient laboratory, heart catheterization labs, 20 critical care patient rooms and 80 general medical or surgical care rooms. Expected to open in 2023, this new hospital will provide the fast-growing population of Flagler County with even more inpatient care services close to home. Future plans also include a 30,000-square-foot medical office building.

Medical Tourism on the East Central Coast

Many people travel to Daytona Beach for a sunny vacation; however, some visitors are also taking advantage of the area's medical expertise. According to Florida TaxWatch, "Medical tourism has been on the rise and Florida, with renowned medical expertise, health centers of excellence, desirable vacation locations, and multiple transportation access routes, is poised to capture a portion of [the] world market."

With many high-profile healthcare facilities on the East Central Coast, it is easy to see why many people from around the nation and world travel to the area for exceptional medical care. "Patients and families from across the country appreciate the unique culture at AdventHealth Daytona Beach," according to the hospital's website. "Our cutting-edge technology is accompanied by holistic environment and patient-centered care. Best of all, it's just a short trip from some of Florida's most exciting attractions—and minutes from the Sunshine State's premier beaches."

Electronic Health Records and Direct Secure Messaging

In an increasingly paperless healthcare landscape, Electronic Health Record systems are transforming the way patients receive care. Also known as EHRs, these software systems are utilized by hospitals, healthcare facilities and other medical practices to treat patients more efficiently.

EHRs are digital records of a patient's overall health. They consist of demographic information, lab reports, medications, allergies, immunizations, radiology reports and visits. EHRs may also include billing and insurance information. One of the great benefits of EHRs is their interoperability, meaning that they are designed to be shared with other healthcare organizations' systems. As a result, EHRs offer a broader picture of a patient's medical history, collecting information from every provider involved in a patient's treatment and care.

This access to a patient's complete medical history allows physicians to collaborate with other providers treating a patient. With access to a patient's EHR, physicians can instantly review a patient's medical records, lab tests, and other important information. EHRs also allow a patient's medical information to move with them to different specialists, labs, imaging centers, emergency rooms and pharmacies not only locally but nationally. Their digital health records are always updated to include the most up-to-date version so that healthcare providers can make more informed decisions.

Direct Secure Messaging and Secure Instant Messaging

Many EHR systems have a direct secure messaging component that allows physicians to communicate with one another. Direct secure messages (also known as direct exchange) use encrypted emails to exchange confidential health information across different EHR networks. This allows for HIPAA-compliant, encrypted transmission of Protected Health Information. Direct secure messaging is a better alternative to regular email since it does not have the inherent risks of being compromised or accessed by unauthorized users.

Direct secure messaging systems require access to a Health Information Service Provider, or HISP. Healthcare providers use their EHR software to locate a patient's health records that will be included in a direct secure message. Once the doctor is ready to send the direct secure message, the HISP validates the recipient's identity and provides a notification that the delivery was successful.

EHR vendors may also have an application that allows healthcare providers to send secure, real-time instant messages to colleagues in the same system. This can reduce or eliminate the need for outdated and inefficient pagers. Users can chat one-on-one or create group messages to discuss detailed patient information. Messages can even include photos and charts.

Halifax Health and Pure Storage

On the East Central Coast, Halifax Health uses Pure Storage FlashArray to manage its EHRs. In 2020, Halifax Health transferred its Meditech EHR system to Pure Storage. This system allows Halifax Health staff to access the health information they need in order to deliver a continuity of care and improve patient outcomes.

"Our investment in Pure Storage allows us to retain full control of our infrastructure, without running up operating expenses. We've had nothing but 100 percent uptime ever since," said Halifax Health Vice President and Chief Information Technology Officer Mike Marques in a press release.

Halifax Health has more than 200 applications running on Pure Storage, including Halifax Health's tier-1 applications, such as PACS, TeleTracking and several Electronic Medical Records. "Halifax Health has reduced its recovery objectives and recovery time objectives significantly by moving to Pure Storage," according to the Pure Storage website. "Halifax Health also has cut the time spent managing storage by 75 percent, which proved especially valuable early in the pandemic when the hospital system needed to develop in-house telemedicine and virtual waiting room applications rapidly."

AdventHealth and Epic

As the nation's largest EHR vendor, Epic is one of the top healthcare IT companies providing healthcare integration solutions. Its user-friendly design for healthcare applications makes apps easy to use. For more than 40 years, Epic has been developing software that keeps the patient at the center. More than 250 million patients currently have an electronic record in the Epic system.

In March 2022, AdventHealth (which has multiple hospitals on the East Central Coast) implemented Epic across all its acute care, physician practice, ambulatory, urgent care, home health and hospice facilities.

"Our journey to become a consumer-focused clinical company requires a fully connected network throughout our entire enterprise," said Terry Shaw, president and

"One of the great benefits of EHRs is their interoperability, meaning that they are designed to be shared with other healthcare organizations' systems."

CEO for AdventHealth. "Connecting our network with a robust, integrated health record platform gives our caregivers access to the clinical information they need at the point of care and ultimately advances our consumer promises through a more seamless experience for those we serve."

With Epic, health records are easily accessible regardless of the care setting in which a patient interacts with the health system, fostering greater efficiency and coordination. Epic's Community Connect program also allows AdventHealth to extend its EHR system to affiliated providers as part of the integrated platform.

AdventHealth's mobile app is enhanced with Epic's supporting infrastructure and tools, such as MyChart, which allows patients to conveniently access their health information from anywhere. The transition to Epic comprises more than 1,200 care sites across the healthcare system and is expected to be fully complete in about three years.

Limited Licenses

There are options for you if you are not ready to give up practicing medicine but also are not ready to retire. When your medical license is placed in retirement status, you are prohibited from practicing any form of medicine. Yet, if your license is converted to a limited license status, you can still practice medicine on a volunteer basis to provide uncompensated care for low-income residents. A limited license is restricted to areas of critical need. Since physicians are working without compensation under the limited license status, license renewal fees are waived.
